Immigration is a hot-button topic in today's political climate. But behind the rhetoric and the headlines, there are real people with real stories.

Americans By Choice is a collection of inspiring stories from immigrants who have chosen to make America their home.

These stories are about people who have come to this country from all over the world, from all walks of life. They have come in search of a better life for themselves and their families. And they have found it in America.

The immigrants featured in Americans By Choice are doctors, lawyers, teachers, engineers, and business owners. They are also parents, grandparents, and friends. They are people who have made a positive contribution to their communities and to the country as a whole.

Their stories are a reminder that immigration is not a threat to our country. It is a source of strength. Immigrants are part of the fabric of America, and they have always been a part of our success story.

The Stories

The stories in Americans By Choice are as diverse as the immigrants themselves. Some are stories of triumph, some are stories of hardship, and some are simply stories of everyday life. But they are all stories that will open your eyes to the struggles and triumphs of those who have come to this country in search of a better life.

Here are a few of the stories you'll find in Americans By Choice:

- The story of a young woman from Mexico who came to the United States as a child and went on to become a doctor.
- The story of a man from India who came to the United States to study engineering and went on to become a successful businessman.
- The story of a woman from China who came to the United States to teach English and went on to become a writer.

These are just a few of the many inspiring stories you'll find in Americans By Choice. These are stories that will stay with you long after you finish reading the book.

Why Read Americans By Choice?
