

Pauline: Loving My Mother Through Death

In 2016, my mother, Pauline, was diagnosed with terminal cancer. I was devastated. I had always known that she would die someday, but I wasn't prepared for it to happen so soon.

In the months that followed, I spent as much time with my mother as I could. We talked, we laughed, we cried, and we shared our deepest secrets. I learned so much about her during that time, and I came to appreciate her more than ever before.

My mother died in February 2017. I was heartbroken, but I was also grateful for the time we had together. I knew that she would always be with me in my heart, and I resolved to live my life in a way that would make her proud.

This book is a tribute to my mother. It is a story about love, loss, and the power of the human spirit. I hope that it will bring comfort to others who have lost loved ones, and that it will inspire them to live their lives to the fullest.
