1. The Economic Imperative: We must create an economy that works for everyone, not just the wealthy few. This means investing in education, infrastructure, and other public goods that will help to create jobs and grow the economy. It also means ensuring that everyone has a fair chance to succeed, regardless of their background or circumstances.

2. The Governance Imperative: We must strengthen our governments and make them more responsive to the needs of the people. This means increasing transparency and accountability, and ensuring that everyone has a voice in how their government is run. It also means investing in public services that are essential to our well-being, such as healthcare, education, and environmental protection.
3. The Citizen Imperative: We must all be active citizens and participate in the democratic process. This means voting, volunteering, and speaking out on the issues that matter to us. It also means holding our elected officials accountable and demanding that they work in the best interests of the people.

The Everybody Imperative is a call to action for all of us. We must all work together to create a more just and sustainable world. This book is an essential guide for anyone who wants to understand the challenges facing our world today and who is committed to making a difference.
